BETWEEN THE COVERS

For nearly ten years, the epithet Whiz Kid has been associated with Milton High School. In 1948, Carl Scrivener, a Quincy Patriot-Ledger sports writer, used it to describe the successful basketball squad. Soon, however, it was applied to all varsity teams and then to the entire student body.

What is a Whiz Kid? He is a symbol of Milton High School life. A typical Whiz Kid takes an active interest in curricular and extra-curricular activities. He belongs to clubs, to musical and journalistic groups, for he realizes that through them he develops his own creative abilities and helps in fostering a better school spirit. Although he may not participate in varsity athletics, he admires good sportsmanship and gives the teams his loyal support. He works conscientiously and co-operatively in all classroom projects because he values the truth of his school motto, "Knowledge Is Power."

In this issue of "The Unquity Echo," the staff presents the Whiz Kid to illustrate Milton High School life.

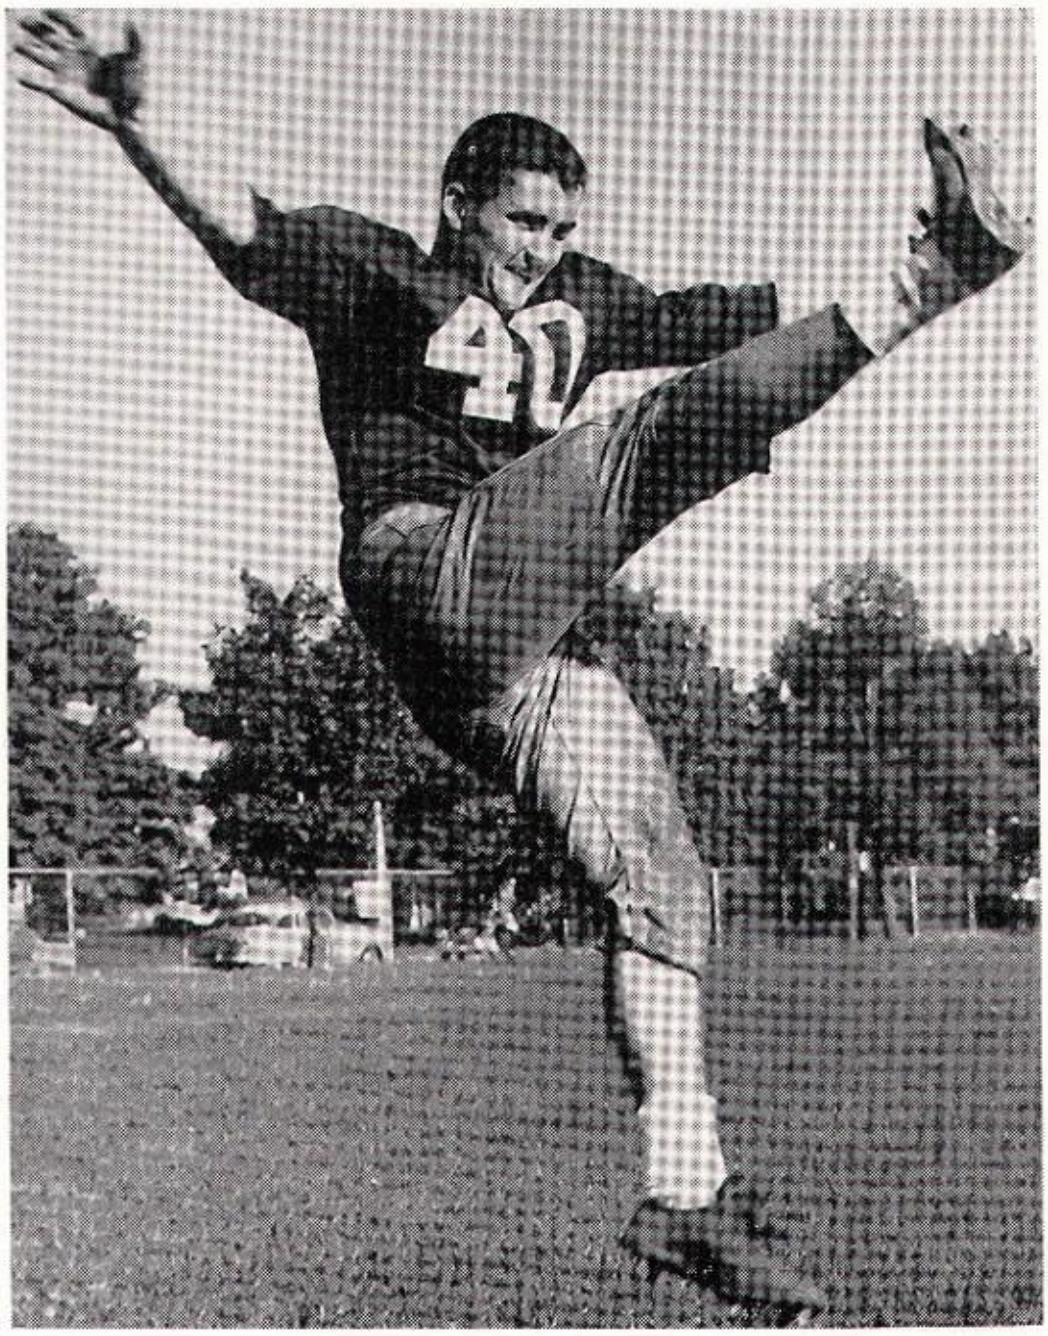
PATRONAGE

IN OUR HEARTS AND MINDS



In April of 1956, we were saddened by the tragic death of William Henry Thornton of the class of 1957. We respected him in the classroom and admired him as he participated in varsity sports. With athletic skill as his outstanding achievement, he won a permanent place in the hearts and minds not only of his teammates but of all who admired him for what he really was, a true example of American youth.

To the memory of

WILLIAM HENRY THORNTON

we dedicate this Yearbook.

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS

The Principal's Message

The class of nineteen fifty-seven faces a propitious future despite political tensions and world turmoil. Apparently society is never without factions and feuds. For fifty years I can personally remember continued strife or apprehension of strife. Research in history even prior to the dawn of nations reveals that tribes and clans preyed incessantly on one another. Nevertheless national organization and global control breed certitude of peace rather than imminence of war.

For three years your school has endeavored to encourage you to interrogate the past, to scrutinize its tenets, to question its methods, to analyze its motives, to doubt its sanctity, to learn from its lessons, to use its discoveries, and to press forward upon its time-tested truths.

The present is the time to occupy completely. It is not intended that you shall live in the past, but that you shall consciously profit from the progress of past generations. At the turn of the century, an energetic United States President advocated the strenuous life of which he was a notable exponent. Other great leaders have called for a full life, while thoughtful educators have long sought a contributing life. Your school hopes that you may have a purposeful life, the meaning of which is evident not only to you but to all with whom you associate.

The present days glide by ever so swiftly, for there is nothing more fleet than time in which there is no turning back. Purposeful living is the keystone in the arch of progress; whereas progress constitutes the chief ingredient in the masonry of contentment. Hence to occupy the present to the utmost for purposeful living is a vital objective.

To live too much in the past smacks of senility. To be occupied exclusively with the present is mundane. To have faith in the future is benign. Even as it is impossible to conceive of the beginning of time, so it is incredible to imagine the end of time. Your class is thereby currently precisely pivoted in the center of time with an enigmatic future fully as alluring as the unhallowed past. No one can be certain of his future role. Faith is needed. There must be trust. Life-long preparation is a solid foundation for trust. May the class of nineteen fifty-seven continue to learn. May you vividly remember the past, wisely live in the present, and confidently look forward to the future.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council and Home Room Delegation

Although the Student Council and Home Room Delegation are not governing bodies, they are responsible for promoting better student relations in Milton High School. They also give suggestions as to the revisions of school rules and act as the representatives of the student body when the necessity arises. This year, as always, the annual November Harvest Dance was well attended. The proceeds of this dance, along with those of rummage and fudge sales, have been used to sponsor a scholarship award of $250, given to some worthy senior at the graduation ceremony, and to help in the entertainment of the delegates to the State Convention held in Milton High School in May. Delegates have attended the Eastern Massachusetts Student Council conventions held in Gloucester and Saugus.

The Student Council consists of four seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores, elected by the student body. The Home Room Delegation includes two members from each senior high school home room. Competent officers from each group preside over the meetings under the direction of Miss Thelma B. Foster.

HOME ROOM DELEGATION

Front row: K. Cloney, J. Jamison, R. Moran, M. Verrochi, S. Trussell, M. Boyle, J. Iverson, M. Smigliani, S. Gordon. Second row: B. Smith, J. Moreng, J. DeSantis, W. Whalen, P. Quinlan, J. Fahey, T. Adams, P. McDonald, C. Anderson, J. Granstrom, B. Gillis. Third row: K. Hurley, E. Callanan, B. Interland, R. Croce, J. Dunphy, J. Martorano, C. Lanigan, L. Walsh.

GIRLS' LEAGUE OFFICERS AND COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

Front row: D. Etienne, J. Murray, J. Grantrom, J. Jamison, P. Cote, S. Visnick, Miss Murdock. Second row: M. Noris, J. Moreng, D. Blaydow, J. Zoll, K. Cloney, F. Parsons, G. Chandler.

Girls' League

The Girls' League, under the guidance of Miss Murdock, is designed to create an interest in school and community life. At the beginning of the school year, the League held the traditional sophomore initiation and the candlelight ceremony. With the money raised from the concession at a football game and from the sale of pins and pencils, the League was able to establish the scholarship fund and to send Care packages to Hungary. In February for the Mothers' Tea and also for the assembly, the girls presented the highly enjoyable comedy, "Shakespeare's Ladies." In the spring, the athletic committee directed the popular all-star game. As in previous years, the League sponsored two dances, the Christmas dance and the spring formal, both of which are among the school highlights for the year.

Although all committees have been busy, special recognition should be made concerning the Nurses' Aides who have done volunteer work many afternoons at the Milton Hospital. These girls, under the direction of the Civics Committee, have done a commendable job.

NURSES' AIDES

Front row: S. Lane, M. Marad, C. Jolley, S. Trussell, I. Troungo, P. Cote, D. Harvey, F. Rafuse, E. Maloney, M. O'Toole. Second row: L. Trombley, K. Cloney, M. McCloskey, C. Keith, C. Young, J. Moreng, M. Wilson, M. Clancy.

SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

Front Row: M. Boyle, P. Dolan, K. Cloney, M. Haynes, U. Rice, J. Granstrom, F. Parsons, J. Moreng, K. Haynes. Second Row: B. Sooper, A. Wehter, C. Lanigan, J. Dunphy, R. Grady, P. Quinlan, W. Murdock, A. Sperling, D. Devine, T. Iovino, J. Brittan.

Front Row: C. Jamison, N. Swartz, P. Simpson (Assistant Business Manager), J. Gallery (Business Manager), J. Peinert, H. Noonan.

Front Row: D. Etienne, G. Collins, M. Smigliani, D. Campbell, C. DeVoe, M. Noris, A. Kast, C. Roessel. Second Row: S. Feinstein, E. Canon, G. Hockaday, T. Hagan, J. O'Leary, J. Bowie, R. McDonough, R. McInnes, A. Stearns, M. Landsman.

Two of the busiest groups in the school are the magazine and the yearbook staffs. These editors produce publications not only for their own satisfaction but for the pleasure of the entire student body. The Echo, in annual competition with other magazines submitted to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, has received in the past six years one medalist and five first-place awards. During the past year, Ultan Rice has been the editor.

The Yearbook also received first awards from Columbia. This staff produces the annual which serves as a permanent reminder of the school year. The co-editors have been Donald Campbell and Carolyn DeVoe.

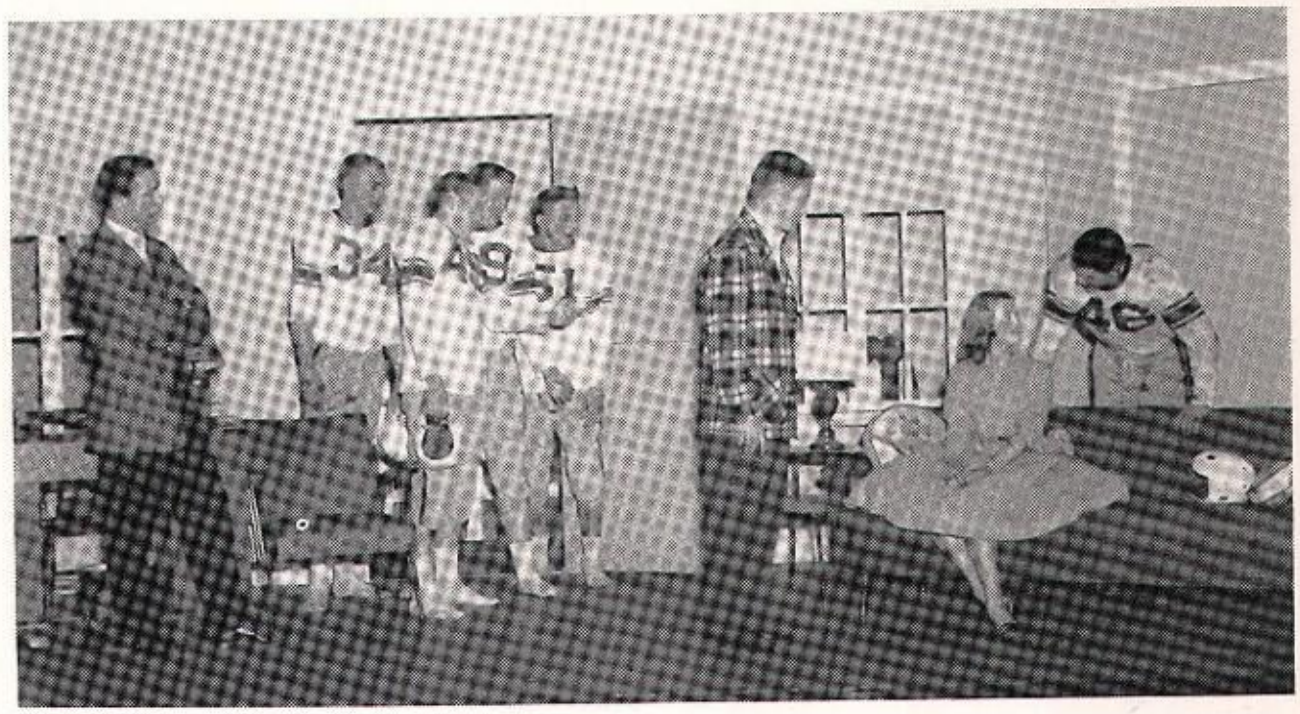
These two groups depend upon the business staff who raise money to help finance both publications. John Gallery has been the business manager; Patricia Simpson, the assistant.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Front Row: M. Landsman, R. Mitsch, D. Harvey, J. Atsales, S. Hall, J. Moreng, S. Trussell, J. Granstrom, D. Etienne, I. Troungo, S. Feinstein, N. Lawler. Second Row: C. Astrachan, C. Roessel, F. Parsons, P. Cramer, J. Zoll, S. Visnick, F. Plotner, C. White, L. Rudinsky, E. Maloney, E. Granlund, M. McCloskey, V. Bradbury, E. Banquer. Third Row: G. Hockaday, G. Pickering, R. Guarino, D. Campbell, J. Peacock, E. Hamelburg, T. Hagan, G. Tays, W. Nelson, P. Keddy, J. Cullati.

Dramatics have always been very popular at Milton High School. This year because of the large membership, the faculty adviser, Miss Catherine Delaney, separated the organization into a junior and a senior club. Meetings have been held every month in the auditorium. Each club has been divided into smaller groups, such as make-up, directing, and producing.

The Senior Class Play, "Ever Since Eve," presented December 14, was the highlight of the year. The plot of this hilarious comedy involves the editor of a high school newspaper (Jon Gang), his assistant editor (Diane Etienne), and a charming Southern belle (Sue Hall) who captures the hearts of all the boys in the play. The success of the production was due to the efforts of Miss Delaney, the entire cast, and the many committees—stage, costume, make-up, ticket, program and poster.



Front Row: J. Gang, C. White, G. Tays, J. Peacock, J. Cullati, P. Keddy, S. Hall, C. Lanigan.

Front Row: M. McCloskey, J. Gang, D. Etienne, I. Troungo, S. Hall, P. Keddy.

Screen Guild

The Screen Guild, under the direction of Miss Wagoner, has contributed to many school functions. It has supplied an announcer for home games as well as a projectionist for classes and assemblies. It created the sound effects for the senior play and recorded the glee club and the band concerts. One of the main functions has been the repairing, designing, and building of audio - visual equipment.

Chemistry Club

This year, the Chemistry Club has met in 204 laboratory under the direction of Mr. Smith. The club is in existence to supplement the material taught in the regular chemistry course. The members perform experiments which can't be done in class and discuss various phases of chemistry. For the student with a special interest in this field of science, the Chemistry Club is interesting and helpful.

Front Row: C. DeVoe, R. Hesselschwerdt, R. Dolan, Mr. Tracy, P. Keddy, A. Kast, D. Harvey, C. Crowley.

Debating Club

The Debating Club, under the supervision of Mr. Tracy, aims to provide the members with experience in public speaking and in debating. During each monthly meeting, the club members have debated among themselves and have profited by the constructive criticism of Mr. Tracy who has served as judge. The most important project for the year was the assembly program, a debate on part-time jobs.

Radio Club

The Radio Club, which meets every other Tuesday in 205 under the guidance of Mr. Campbell, teaches its members the fundamentals of radio and electricity. Many of these people have their own elaborate equipment at home, and during club periods share their experiences and try new experiments. By the end of the year, each member hopes to achieve his goal, the acquisition of a "ham" radio operator's license.

Photography Club

Advised by Mr. Smith, the members of the Photography Club learn the art of taking, developing, and enlarging pictures. The club has the use of a Speed Graphic flash camera and a well-equipped darkroom. The climax of the year was the spring photography contest. Through the club, the members learn valuable experience which will help them to enjoy more fully the interesting hobby of photography.

Front Row: M. Jodaitis, J. Shiels, A. Kast, B. Jodaitis, B. Carlson. Second Row: D. Skinner, M. Dias, T. Dunn.

Chess Club

The Chess Club, one of the oldest extra-curricular activities in Milton High School, has been sponsored this year by Mr. Creighton. Because of the lack of experience of the club members, the activities have been limited to intra-mural matches held during the regular club periods. The members hope, however, to resume next year their membership in the South Shore Interscholastic Chess League.

Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross, newly organized this year, worked hard to make the activities successful. The thirty-one representatives, two from each home room with three from 208, collected not only Christmas cards and stamped envelopes to be given to veterans in hospitals but also educational toys and small children's items to be sent to foreign countries. In the spring this organization sponsored a first-aid course. Eighty-seven per cent of the pupils of the school joined the Junior Red Cross.

Honor Roll

Among the senior class this year are some who, for their diligence and willingness to work, deserve special recognition. These seniors have received honor grades in the yearly averages for their sophomore and junior years. They have obtained these honors in scholastic achievements through many hours of perseverance and hard studying. They deserve the congratulations of the entire student body. Two not present when the picture was taken are Vilija Cepas and Robert McDonough.

Front row: K. Cloney, E. Canon, S. Feinstein, M. Landsman, C. DeVoe, J. Fitz Gerald, F. Parsons, M. Haynes, B. Johanson. Second row: M. Noris, N. O'Neil, P. Keddy, J. Pardy, U. Rice, E. Leavitt, C. Lanigan, J. Gallery, A. Kast, R. Waterman.

DRILL TEAM — Front Row: D. Foshay, J. Carita, C. Campbell, J. Atsales, V. Bradbury, J. Bassett.

CHEERLEADERS — Front Row: D. Blaydow, J. Murray, D. Etienne, J. Iverson. Second Row: M. Wallace, S. Kelley, P. Cramer, V. Stebbins, J. Kelley.

BANNERETTES — Front Row: I. Troungo, S. Trussell, C. Jolley, E. Maloney. Second Row: K. Cloney, J. Moreng, S. Hall.

THE DRILL TEAM

For the first time at Milton High School a drill team was organized. Practicing under the supervision of Captain Robert Fisher from English High School these girls formed intricate maneuvers at all the football games. Smartly uniformed in maroon kilt skirts and white blouses, the team amazed and delighted all spectators by their excellent precision marching.

CHEERLEADERS

Dressed in the traditional maroon and white uniforms, Milton's cheerleaders strive to help the teams to victory. Starting in the fall and continuing through the basketball season these nine girls practice faithfully. At the end of the first year of cheering each girl receives a certificate and a school letter which then becomes part of her uniform.

BANNERETTES

This year one of the innovations for the football games was the formation of the Bannerettes. Uniformed in maroon skirts and heavy white sweaters, these girls carried a display of signs bearing the inscription MILTON. They performed before each game and on Thanksgiving took part in a special between-the-halves program put on by the band.

THE MAJORETTES

This year as in the past, the Majorettes marched with the band at all the football games. Attired in their colorful new uniforms of maroon and white, they were an added attraction. Practicing every Tuesday and Friday mornings with the band, these three girls worked out with their batons intricate patterns which they demonstrated at the games.

SCRIBBLERS' CLUB

Scribblers' Club

The Scribblers' Club, composed of sophomores and juniors under the leadership of Miss Potter, promotes an interest in writing. During the monthly meetings held in the regular club periods, various styles of creative work have been studied and then used as models. The club members have written light essays, cinquains, and even verses for greeting cards. They have submitted some of their work to the Unquity Echo and have felt rewarded when their literary efforts have appeared in print. The highlight of the year was the annual contest held in the spring. Prizes were given for the best informal essay.

Band

Milton High School is proud of its band. Directed by Mr. Tatro, these members have rehearsed every Tuesday and Friday morning before school as well as period three on Thursday. In the fall they perfected their music and drill maneuvers for the football games. During the winter and spring, they prepared for the instrumental concert held in May. This concert, which demonstrates the musical talents found in all the grades, is climaxed by the performance of the senior high school band. In addition, several of the members with exceptional ability were chosen to perform in either the All-State Concert or the All-Eastern Concert.

SENIOR GLEE CLUB

Glee Club

Every Wednesday, third period, the members of the Glee Club rehearse to accomplish their aim, blending voices into harmony. The club consists of seventy-five senior high pupils directed by Mr. Tatro. This year, besides their annual Spring Concert, the members presented a special candlelight Christmas assembly, in which "The Song of Christmas" was the outstanding number. Some were selected to represent the club in the All-State Chorus. On April 5, the night of the Spring Concert, all the members, under Mr. Tatro's supervision, produced a program of musical selections, such as "Wunderbar," "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "The Lord's Prayer," "Light," and "O Lord Most Holy."

Latin-American Club

Under the guidance of Miss Neylan, the Latin-American Club, consisting of junior and senior girls, meets once a month on Tuesday, third period. During these meetings the members watch films on foreign countries, use common Spanish expressions, or put on short musical and dramatic programs based on the Latin-American countries. In this way, they become better acquainted with their southern neighbors. The outstanding event of the year was a tea in honor of the exchange teacher from Argentina, Miss Samada. This afternoon meeting proved both enjoyable and educational, for it provided firsthand information about Argentina in an informal and interesting manner.

Front Row: E. Banquer, R. Waterman, I. Troungo, J. Atsales, C. Astrachan, C. Jolley, P. Cote, D. Hansen, S. Hall, R. Mitsch. Second row: M. Arrigo, M. Marad, E. Patz, A. Stearns, E. Maloney, S. ATHLETICS

Football

The football team, although winless, exhibited a fighting, never-say-die spirit. There were several excitingly close games, including a high-scoring loss to Needham and a last-minute defeat at the hands of Norwood. A lop-sided defeat to Natick, Class B Title contenders, shook the team's confidence; constant injuries kept the team below peak efficiency. Despite the bad breaks, the team entered each game with a determination to do its best.

Winter Track

In spite of a disappointing winter season, the trackmen can be proud of such senior runners as Tom Hagan, Bill Nelson, Tom Heffernan, and such field men as Charlie White and Emanuel Hamelburg. All the meets were held at the East Newton Street Armory with the exceptions of the B.A.A. and the State Meet, both of which were held at the Boston Garden. The outlook for future teams is good with several prospects rapidly improving.

Basketball

The 1957 basketball team, led by Captain Jeff Peacock, provided the fans with many seat-squirming thrills. Plagued by inexperience, the Whiz Kids lost their early games but improved quickly as the season advanced. Raymond Gadaire returned as coach after a two-year absence to find only three returning lettermen. Although the team had a rather unimpressive record, it was an excellent representative of Milton High School and its fighting spirit.

Hockey

Milton High's hockey team finished their schedule with an excellent record. Only one loss enabled the pucksters to make the play-offs with ease. Their impressive season was due partly to the coaching of Mr. Pedersen and constant drills at the Milton Academy rink. Much credit, however, should go to the team. The experienced goal-tending and skillful scoring gave the Milton club the aggressive, fighting spirit necessary to any good team.

Maloney, S. Kelley, D. Foshay, M. Dotoli, M. Dacey, R. Brown, J. Bassett, E. Granlund, R. Mitsch, M. Marad, M. Arrigo.

Girls' Basketball

In basketball, there were more participants than in any other girls' sport. Every afternoon during January and February games were scheduled. In all there were three senior, three junior, and four sophomore teams in the tournament. Oklahoma, a senior group, finished in first place. At the end of the season, twenty - six seniors were awarded shields.

Tennis

In the spring, girls interested in tennis were divided into three groups: beginners, intermediates, and advanced. Tournaments were held within the groups. At the end of the 1956 season, twenty girls of the class of 1957 received their shields. For this award, they had to complete the requirements within their group and be present at practice eight afternoons.

Archery

During October and November, ninety-seven junior and senior girls participated in archery. Twice a week each girl, equipped with bow and arrow, wrist guard, and finger guard, practised at hitting the bull's-eye on the target. For the tournaments there were two groups, beginners and second - year players. Ruth Hesselschwerdt won the senior tournament.

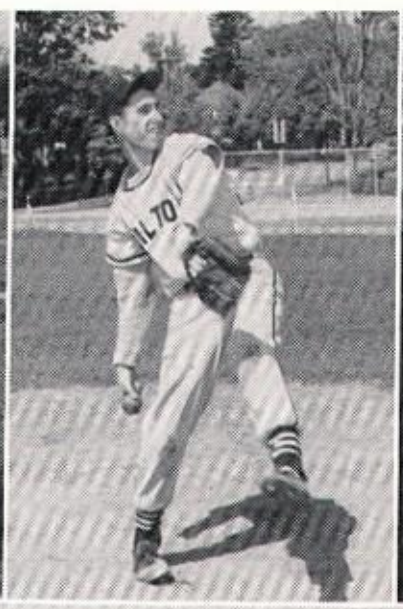
Badminton

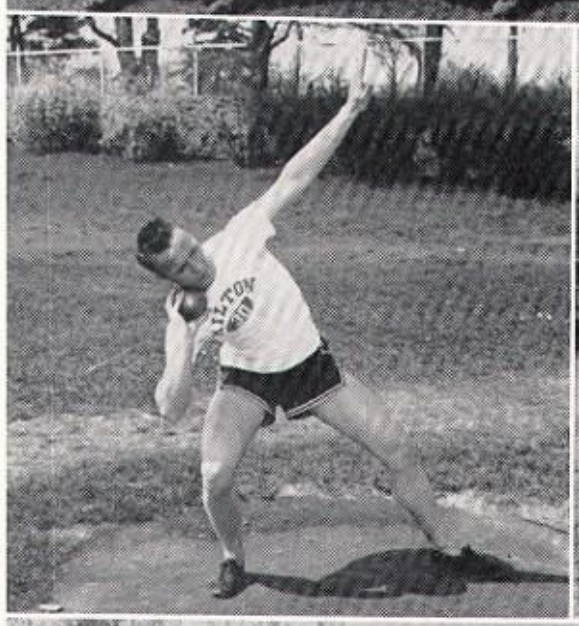
In the early spring badminton, played on courts set up in the gymnasium, is the afternoon sport for girls. The first few weeks were used for practice, but later tournaments were held. The winners for 1956 were Elinor Banquer and Kate Cloney. At the end of the season, girls who fulfilled the requirements were awarded shields.

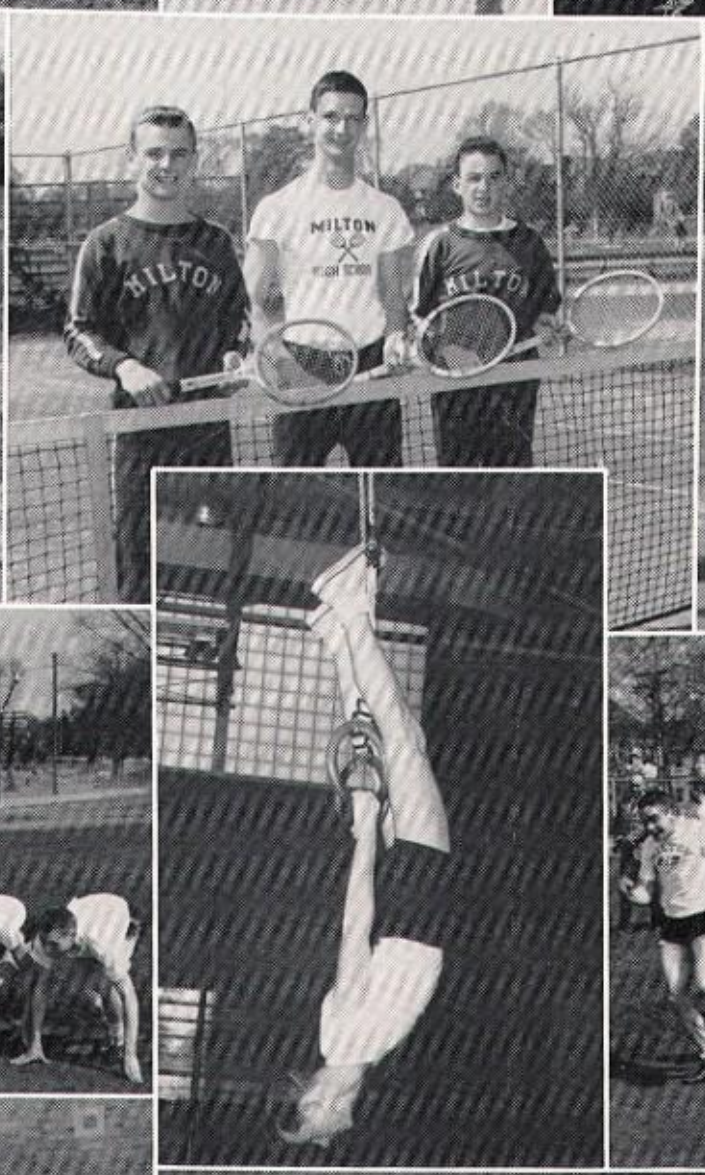
Rock 'n roll

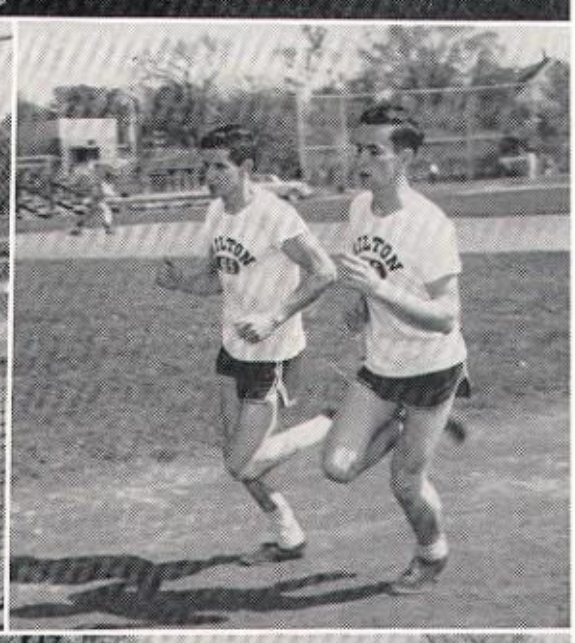
Heave!

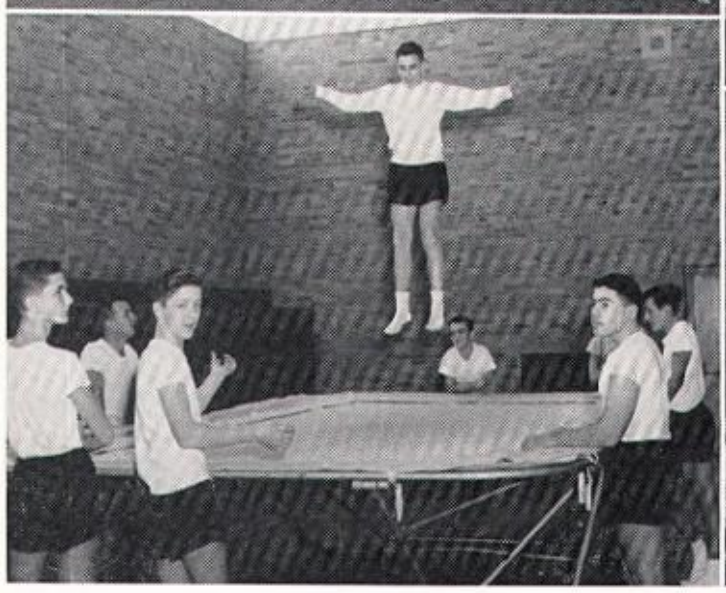
Swing high

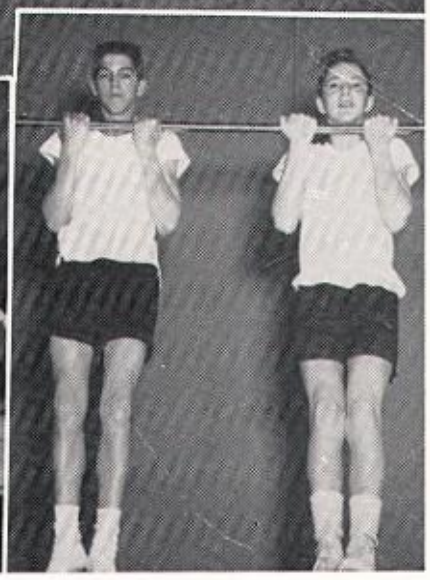












It's a home run
Is it heavy?
Ready, set, go
Trampoline bounce

Here it comes!
The racket squad
Upsy Daisy!
Front drop

Speed demons
Spring fever
Faster, faster
Chins up

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

September 5 When summer was over and fall was near,
The Whiz Kids started a new school year.

September 20 On Milton's Sports Night there were few empty seats,
For all came to see the outstanding athletes.

September 22 Although we acquired no fortune nor fame,
We tried our best at the first football game.

September 29 A hundred dollars from a Rummage Sale,
Proved to the Council it didn't fail.

October 11 The Record Hop, what a gay recollection!
That it had to end was our only objection.

October 24 In sneakers and bows did the sophomores appear,
To show to us all Initiation was here.

October 26 In a candlelight service the Girls' League instructed
All the sophomore girls, who were duly inducted.

November 9 Our Senior Class officers were chosen today,
With campaigns and voting the American way.

November 16 The Harvest Dance was a ballroom delight,
With music and fun till eleven at night.

November 22 Though Braintree was victor this Thanksgiving game,
Our pride in our team has remained just the same.

December 7 The music and lights helped to enhance
The holiday spirit at the Christmas Dance.

December 14 The Senior Play actors were glad to receive
Much praise for their show which was "Ever Since Eve."

December 23 The Glee Club sang carols; now vacation was here;
"Merry Christmas," we called, "and Happy New Year."

January 12 We sharpened our wits and did our best,
For three long hours of the Aptitude Test.

January 18 As we gazed at the Senior Class pictures we bought,
We realized we weren't quite so cute as we'd thought.

January 24 The Latin-American Club's main feature,
Was a tea for Miss Samada, a South American teacher.

February 6 A play was put on for the mothers to see,
As part of the program at the Girls' League Tea.

March 1 The gay decorations were a wonderful sight,
At the Girls' League Formal, a glorious night.

April 5 After the Glee Club had rehearsed their choices,
They sang at the Concert with harmonious voices.

May 4 The Council's Convention in Milton this year,
Pleased all those concerned, for it spread much good cheer.

May 10 The Senior Prom night there were tears in our eyes.
As we danced to the music, we whispered good-byes.

June 12 With mixed emotions of joy and regret
"Graduation," we said, "we shall never forget."

Au Revoir

With graduation, we seniors terminate our formal education in the schools of Milton, and we look back upon the achievements of twelve years. In kindergarten, we developed a physical co-ordination by playing with building blocks and stringing beads. For six years in grammar school, where we drilled in such processes as the multiplication table and the rudiments of sentence structure, we trained our minds in concentrating and remembering. In junior and senior high school, we realized the necessity for clear thinking and sound judgment.

As this chapter in our lives closes, we turn the page to another which will concern our achievements in the industrial, business, or professional world. Here we face life's greatest tests. Let us keep before us the high educational standards and the ideals taught in Milton High School. May our lives be a credit to ourselves and to our school. We are proud of our alma mater; let us make our alma mater proud of us.
